Lou Ford is the deputy sheriff of a small town in Texas. The worst thing most people can say against him is that he's a little slow and a little boring. But, then, most people don't know about the sickness-the sickness that almost got Lou put away when he was younger. The sickness that is about to surface again.

COMICS AND EUROPE

As we enter the final straight of the 'in or out' debate, I have two firmly held view points. The first is held irrespective of my second and possibly more immediate second.

FIRSTLY

Firstly, I am voting to stay in Europe. Last year we, as a country, faced the Scottish 'in or out' debate. The SNP felt, and still do, that somehow they will be better off independent with full control of their democracy. Their's is a firmly held belief that they would be better off if England didn't take all their oil, etc. It is also a belief entrenched in the iniquities of the past. The Scottish people were not treated well by the English, but that was then and this is now. When the English government stated that oil can go down as well as up in price they were accused of scare mongering. What happened? Oil prices plummeted. The vote, as we know, was to stay in and just as well for Scotland. Strangely the SNP are prepared to give up some sovereignty to Europe, just not to the English!?

Now a very similar scenario is in place. The 'leave' camp believes that Britain will be better off out of the European Market and that all claims by the government and expert sources indicating it will damage our trade and economy are simply scaremongering. Sound familiar? The 'leave' camp think that all our woes are due to being in Europe; that the 'old foes' are squandering our money and setting laws we have no say on. Actually, we still control 85% of our legislature and of the 15% set by the EU, I would opine that 99% of that section are actually good for the people, even if our Government thinks otherwise. Our over crowding problems stem not from European migration, but years of governments of all hues allowing far too many to enter from outside of Europe. In fact, if you remove the 2.5 million Europeans working in the UK, our unemployed 1.9 million could not cover the loss. That also assumes that all of this group of people actually want to work.

I want to be part of a larger picture where we work in harmony with our neighbours and where peace will last if we all share common goals and ideals. I feel greatly impressed at the way the UK has such a diverse culture and feel that our lives are enriched by being in Europe. The money put into the EU is worth every penny. We may well be okay outside of Europe after two to five years, but my thought is: why offend the other twenty-six nations? Plus, at sometime in the future we may not be so strong and friends will be needed who will not be there if we have slighted them.

SECONDLY

If we vote to leave then the pound will weaken against other currencies. This may be temporary - say three-to-six months - or it could be worse - a year or more. The dollar is how we all trade in oil, so this means all aspects of our lives will cost more. More relevant to us all is that our comics are paid for in dollars and if you vote to leave then you WILL PAY MORE FOR YOUR COMICS! Not scaremongering, just fact. Not only will this will cause us problems as individuals, but all of the comic businesses in the UK will also face problems.

So for those two reasons alone, I urge you all to vote 'remain'.

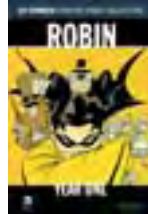

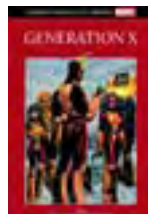

Mission for the month: do a good deed without expecting a reward!
