THE NAMES #1

Peter Milligan,
Leandro
Fernandez,
Celia Calle

New York City. Forty-year-old Kevin Walker is a successful trader. He's incredibly rich. He has a young, sexy wife and a son he adores. He has everything. Until...

The mysterious man known as the Surgeon walks into Kevin's office. He takes a seat and tells Kevin to write a suicide note. Trembling but obedient, Kevin does what the Surgeon says. Then, at a word from this well-dressed figure, Kevin jumps out his window and falls fifty stories to his death.

Thus begins The Names, an 8-issue miniseries by writer Peter Milligan (Hellblazer, Skreemer) and artist Leandro Fernandez (Wolverine, Punisher: Max).

The Names is a dark, contemporary thriller set in the world of Big Money: hedge funds, leveraged buyouts, market raids, flash crashes. High-end finance that can ruin entire economies, run by a cabal of the world's richest (and sickest) people. Now, it's up to Katya Walker - the beautiful and deadly wife of the late Kevin - to take on this hidden power structure and find out who killed her husband, and why. No matter what it takes. No matter who she has to kill. It's The Wolf of Wall Street meets Kill Bill. And heaven help the 1%.

HAWKEYE VS DEADPOOL #0

Gerry Duggan, Matteo Lolli, James Harren

Once upon a time, champions emerged to fight evil plaguing humanity. They fought for salvation, for all that is good in the world -- and they won. They were kind, generous and self-sacrificing. They were heroes. These are not those heroes.

Meet Hawkeye: Ladies man ("ladies man" because the ladies love to hate this man), crossbow crusader and, most importantly, Avenger. He's the only guy on the team without any powers, though, so cut him a little slack. Then there's Deadpool (MR. Deadpool to you, skippy) -- the regeneratin' degenerate. You can shoot him, stab him, and make with the punchy-punchy right in his face, but nothing can keep the Merc with a Mouth down.

What do they have in common? Halloween and a S.H.I.E.L.D. espionage mystery that has the both heroes racing against the clock while outshining one another. It's a Hawkeye & Deadpool comic 75 years in the making, give or take 75 years.

DARK HORSE, WEEKLIES & THE SILVER SURFER

MAKE IT A DARK HORSE MONTH

Over the last twenty five years Dark Horse have continuously given the comic market a steady stream of powerful, well written, and exquisitely drawn comics. No deaths to boost sales, no reboots to create sales and no die-cut, lenticular or 3D covers. Instead they have made an art of taking movie licences and producing strong titles that hold well to the original and then move the stories on. Giving Buffy and Angel further seasons, but in comic form, was inspired and made Joss Whedon and Buffy fans very happy and the horror range is unique and unsurpassed for quality.

Solicited this month for September release are two mini series that are a must for Aliens and horror fans - Prometheus: Fire and Stone #1 ( of

4) and Aliens: Fire and Stone #1 (of 4). They do tie in, but can be read separately. I recommend buying both. The story, I hear you ask? Well, it involves suspense, death and Aliens. Need I say more?

Tomb Raider is now up to issue #8 and going strong. Gail Simone has hit her stride with this series which is full of mystery, magic and myth. The first collected trade paperback is now available for ordering covering issues #1 to 6.

Not to mention the other games tie-ins such as Halo and Mass Effect.

Other crafted stories unique to them include the all new stories of Elfquest, the excellent continuation of the Conan mythos, Brian Wood's The Massive, Matt Kindt's Mind MGMT, Mike Mignola's Hellboy, BPRD, Baltimore and Abe Sapien, Eric Powell's The Goon and finally Steve Niles' Criminal Macabre.

This imaginative range of stories and series is why Dark Horse grows each year in strength and stature and is why I recommend that anyone and everyone try at least one title this month.

DC WEEKLIES

Well I am having to eat one of my many hats this week as I admit to being pleasantly proved wrong by the two DC weekly series. I cannot wait each week to get my copy of Batman Eternal as it is a fast paced, well written, well drawn entertaining comic. It takes me back to the feeling I used to have waiting for the paperboy to deliver my parents papers on a Saturday, knowing my Terrific, Valiant, etc would be inside. My one criticism would be that it is not all ages. I would love to recommend this to all parents who come in to the stores as a perfect introduction to Batman. New 52 Futures End was not originally on my 'to read' list as I am not sure I feel comfortable with seeing the future and then knowing that this is the fate my current favourite reads are moving to. I know it is not set in stone, but it still is an odd premise for me. That said, they are a cracking good read.

Now pass me the ketchup as my trilby is a bit stale.

IDW BREAK A MAN'S WALLET

My greatest weakness in comic collecting is the Silver Surfer. I just love the character, especially Stan Lee's original eighteen issue run, and within that, the John Buscema issues, which for me stand out as some of the best comics he ever drew - in fact, the best comics ever (apologies to Jack Kirby)!

I say 'weakness' as whenever a new reprint comes out, I have to buy it. I have the comics, the trades, the Omnibus and now I just have to have IDW's artists edition. The artist editions are absolute gorgeous. I just love to see the original pages as they were drawn in glorious black and white complete with notations in the margins. They may seem expensive at around £100, but 144 full art pages for £100? That is a bargain by this man's standards! John Buscema's Silver Surfer Artist Edition HC, you are now destined to be lovingly read and will stand proudly on a shelf in Biff's study... if I can find a shelf big enough!
